Level 3

A girl from the Philippines watched videos of her parents cheerleading, and she imitated the moves. Her parents started teaching her how to balance before she turned one.

Now, the girl is just two years old and is already famous. One post on Facebook has more than 29,000 views and 433 shares. In the video, she performs a stunt. Thanks to the Internet, the girl went on TV and performed at events.

The parents say that their girl likes her training because it is like a game to her. If she didn't enjoy it, they wouldn't train her.
