Buying food

How much is that?

Customer:	I´ll have a whole-wheat loaf, three white loaves, a baguette and ten rolls, please. How much is that?
Baker:	The whole-wheat loaf is 45 cents, the white loaves are 35 cents each, the baguette is 27 cents and the rolls are eight cents each. That makes two dollars fifty-seven cents.
Customer:	There you go.
Baker:	Thank you, ma´am. Forty-three cents change. Have a nice day.
